Bury St Edmunds Veterinary Centre

Price list

We will always aim to honour estimates and estimate the upper end of expected, however in some cases if treatment becomes more complex than first anticipated, costs may differ. In these situations we will always contact you to discuss prior to carrying out the additional work, unless it is an emergency.

Parasiticides

The prices below relate to some of our most prescribed flea, tick and worming products. Please note this is not a full list of all products we can prescribe, and they should not be used as a menu of options.

Pet owners should consult their vet about whether their pet needs parasiticide product(s). If parasiticide treatment is needed, the vet will prescribe a specific medicine based on their clinical judgement and what is most appropriate for the individual pet.

Caesarean Sections

Prices given are inclusive of anaesthesia, the surgical procedure, pain relief, pain relief to go home with, assessment of the puppies/kittens and post-operative checks.

Consultations, scans, and other treatment if required will be charged as appropriate. Out of hours prices will be subject to additional out of hours consult and out of hours time fees.

Please note that if they present requiring their second section our policy is to spay at the same time as further breeding of these bitches/Queens would be detrimental to their welfare. We do offer a £100 discount if we spay at the same time with any C-section.

C-sections are major abdominal surgery and repeated C-sections make severe complications like ruptured uterus more likely to occur. These complications can result in pain and suffering, and in some cases death. Therefore, further breeding after 2 sections would be needlessly risking the life and welfare of the queen/bitch in question and is not something we will be complicit in.

Laparoscopic Surgery

We offer various laparoscopic surgeries, the most widely known of these is the keyhole spay. Laparoscopic surgery is minimally invasive so offers the advantages of quicker recoveries, reduced post operative pain, smaller wounds and reduced incidence of post-operative wound interference.

Spay- Laparoscopic (Keyhole)

0-20kg	£700
20-40kg	£750
40kg+	£800

Cryptorchid castrate, lap assisted

This is an add on cost to the normal castrate price for removing the abdominally retained testicle. The cost of the castrate procedure is listed above. The additional cost for removing the abdominally retained testicle is £180.

Lap assisted Gastropexy

This is a procedure that can be performed in breeds at high risk of GDV (typically large and giant breeds) to massively reduce the risk of this occurring. It can be performed at the same time as either a laparoscopic spay or a routine castration procedure or as a standalone procedure in really high risk breeds like Great Danes.
